College news media are any news/feature publications issued under the name of the college and produced by students as an integral co-curricular learning opportunity in the Student Services Division. It may include, but is not limited to, student reporting, broadcast-news journalism, and internet-news journalism. For the purposes of this procedure, the term "editorial" refers to all content other than advertising.

College news media, as laboratory publications of the Student Services Division, shall provide vehicles to train students for careers in mass communication. College news media shall also serve the entire college community by reporting the news, including college events and activities, providing a forum for comment and criticism, and encouraging free expression as guaranteed in the First Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

College news media are valuable aids in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion. College news media shall exercise editorial freedom in order to maintain their integrity as vehicles for free inquiry and free expression in the college community. At the same time, the editorial freedom of the college news media shall entail corollary responsibilities.

Each college newspaper or other news medium (e.g., video, audio, social media, etc.) is published as a co-curricular learning experience offered under the Student Services Division. The editorial and advertising materials published in each news medium, including any opinions expressed, are the responsibility of the student author(s).
