SOCIAL WORK & HUMAN SERVICES

Students take courses in social work and human services to acquire the basic skill set required for entry-level social worker positions and to prepare for transfer to complete a baccalaureate degree in social work and human services or a similar major. As a profession, social work and human services focuses on methods for helping people from many different social groups to improve the quality of their lives.

MiraCosta College is the only community college in California to offer a completely online program in social work that prepares students for a career in a field with a growing number of job opportunities.

The new online social work and human services program utilizes various zero-cost textbooks and open educational resources, so students will pay a fraction of what they used to pay the costs in other colleges and universities.

ASSOCIATE DEGREE

Students completing this associate degree will have completed lower-division major preparation requirements for a social work and human services degree, an emphasis or option within a social work and human services degree, or a degree considered similar to social work and human services at a participating California State University (CSU) campus.

COURSES INCLUDE

- Introduction to Social Work & Human Services
- Fieldwork/Practicum in Social Work & Human Services
- Introduction to Sociology
- Introduction to Statistics in Sociology
- Principles of Economics (macro or micro)

For more information about each course, please contact the Counseling Department at 760.795.6670 or consult the MiraCosta College catalog at www.miracosta.edu/catalog

An Associate Degree in Social Work & Human Services is offered to provide students with the knowledge and skills to secure a career in the field. An associate degree requires completion of general education courses specified in the MiraCosta College catalog.

"This new program will allow MiraCosta College to produce skilled candidates trained to meet the Social Worker I qualification for the County of San Diego, fulfilling a regional workforce need and acting as a launching point for completion of bachelors and graduate degrees."
